- 1 Our SOLAR PANELS produce direct current (DC) electricity out of sunlight - even during cloudy days when no direct sunrays hit the solar panels!
- 2 The INVERTER converts the produced DC electricity into consumable alternating current (AC) electricity.
- 3 The INVERTER supplies solar energy automatically to all your APPLIANCES and DEVICES before the UTILITY's energy. If you need more electricity than what the solar panels produce, it gets supplied by the UTILITY as usual with no shortage or delay.
- 4 Excess solar energy generated is automatically sold to the UTILITY through net metering, lowering your electric bill even further!

*Renewable Energy Act of 2008 (RA 9513) allows net metering nationwide, which enables qualified end-users to generate electricity from solar for their own use and sell excess energy to the distribution utility.
